

Pharmacists care, no matter where.

Your pharmacist is there for you no matter where you need care: in the community, in hospital, in a nursing home, an outpatient clinic or when moving between settings.

Working with your pharmacist can prevent medication-related problems such as double dosing.

Whenever — or wherever—you have questions about your medication or need help with your health care, talk to your pharmacist.

